See; thats a point of interest; but I have to say that if you really believe that then this current government should be appalling to your belief. All the spying on everyone; thats un-aAmerican to me and represents the worst kind of government intrusion.When you complain about not being allowed to carry loaded handguns; of course I have to ask what that is about. Thats a wish of the people expressed to thier representatives who then do the wishes of the electorate. So if you blame the government itself I have to ask why?I mean to me there has to be some rules for safety.
