That's one of the points. there should be more training. Kids should not be weilding handguns because they are cool. or sneaking one into school to be a show off. It's the attitude of the people on the street waving guns in your face and shooting people silly or no reasons that needs to change. I see those people as killers. a gun is the weapon of choice. take away the gun and you still have a killer; the killer finds a new weapon.
