I managed to snag a few of the Unsung Stories tracks from p2p.Let me know in mail if you want any. "Death In The Morning" iskiller! I know nothing about it: if it's traditional, popular music or what. But it's one of the best solo/accapella songs I've ever heard.I had encouraged the folk program on public radio to play it, but, alasthey said it was out of their format or something.
