Well; thats what I thought. Then you tell me no personal information. Unless I read that post wrong. If you look at the post I ask what we can post about. Thats a question; so if I ask you a question; how can I be "right" or "Wrong"?As far as winning"debates", there hasnt been a debate. You have to have a premise on each side in order to have a debate. So far there has only been a premise on one side. The other side has only been a defense. So I guess maybe you could call it a trial? I dont know what else we could call it; but it aint no debate.I still have no answer to any of the original questions; just diversions. Thats why its boring; no sharing of opinion.
