Of course; but how does that tie in with invading Iraq? No WMDs and promises from our leader that we would be welcome with open arms. Remmember "The War Is Over" on the landing deck stunt?Now there are estimated over 200 deaths of Iraqi's every day. Big help we were to all their families. Civil war is happening as we speak and the best option they can see is to split the country three ways. So tell me what exactly did we acomplish here. No silliness but a real thought on this. From the heart; not the blog.
