You know it's a funny thing. When I was a kid the old guys all said we should have to do what they did; work hard; live tough; learn to handle yourself in a scrap. They all thought we needed to grow up like they did to get ourselves prepared for a tough world. Now we all pray that our kids don't do the things we did; driving drunk every day; the drugs ;the sex; the craziness. Funny how things turn out. Now we are all raising kids who might someday in the future find the going a little tough for them. What this has to do with young guys having sex with older women I don't know but I am sure we all had to deal with that issue at some point; the old guys never made a big deal about that; in fact it seems they almost encouraged it. In some way they thought it was safer because I guess the older woman knew she would not be treated lightly or taken seriously if she complained. My analysis for what it's worth.
