Really: no better way to test the speaks on those low notes from natural environment as opposed to a tone generater or something.People _are_ spooked by organ music though. I oncve had a guy in the cabs that, upon hearing the organ recital I had on made me change it.I did. I'm not militant about it. Not as militant as, say,Lawrence University in the town where I live who refused tolet Frank Zappa take a turn at their King Of Instruments atthe performance chapel. But that was long ago. After listening to Pipe Dreams for some time now, I've learned that there are a largenumber of these things around. It's sort of like playing a steam engine I'd think.
