Sorry to post off-topic but I am disgusted with the daily dose of propaganda on the cable news stations from those dizzy blonds on Fox to the earth shoe throwbacks on CNN. Do we really need these nitwits to tell us what to think? Now whenever you go to an affair the two camps spout all the canned political philosophy from Rush Limp wad to Al Crankin'. It's like arguing with a bumpersticker. Boy; what I wouldn't give to hear Walter Cronkite just once more. People just seem to exhibit the depth of political thought and carefully considered opinion of a paper plate. Sheeez! Thanks for letting me vent.
