I've notice a correlation between size and the longevity and stability of my friends' marriages: Size Does Matter!

Most of the men I know whose wives let them have large speakers are in long-term marriages. Linda and I will celebrate our 43rd anniversary early next year. I overheard one of her women friends from her bible study group asking how we've stayed married so long, and her response was "I love his big woofer, it goes so deep".
