Subject: Re: Consider Using Tube Enclosures for your Speakers.....
Posted by Wayne Parham on Tue, 22 Sep 2009 02:09:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Have you ever looked at Martin King's spreadsheets for designing transmission lines? They're extremely useful tools for examining this very sort of cabinet.

For a while, I think he pulled the software off his website because of abuse. But I seem to recall it was back up. If you get the chance, take a look. I've used it and I find it extremely useful (payed the commercial licensing fee too, fwiw). Measurements correlate very well with the simulations.