Steve does such great work! I've been meaning to get an amp from him too.

Does your neck hurt? Do you have to take special precautions when eating? Or is it specifically just vocal chords, so no talking?

On the Edgarhorns and my crossover, it's just that my crossover is designed specifically for waveguides and other CD horns. When using a horn that has collapsing DI, the top end has a little too much sizzle, on-axis. If you sit off axis, it will sound right though.
