I'm watching Spike's movie and the scene where Malcom is riding in the car to his death they played Sam Cook's "Change Is Gonna Come". I had to go dig out the album and play that song again. Jesus that guy can sing a song. I don't see much mention of the good sound; Soul R&B is the foundation of all current pop music; what; did everyone forget? All kinds of get-up about that elevator Jazz; where's the music man? Otis Clay Shuggie OtisSam&Dave Sly Stone James B. Temptations. "Papa Was A Rollin' Stone. "Marvin Gaye, "Troubleman. "Sam Cook and the Soul Stirrers The Staple Singers Issac Hayes, "Walk On By. "Oooh; gotta go put on some music....
