That's awesome, Bill! I have a couple of Montgomery Ward radios and in each case, the only way to find the schematic was to match the chassis by visual inspection. You just have to look through the whole Rider catalog, scanning for chassis that look like yours by physical layout and matching tube sets. It's a monotonous job, but it's the only way to do it. Montgomery Ward bought chassis from an OEM and had cabinets made for them. Mine were RCA chassis, for what it's worth.
