I am not sure how Eddie Murphy would do in this role. It doesn't seem to fit his personality. However, I would love to see him in a serious role. Everyone knows him as a funny guy and he has been very successful at it. But I think he also has another side that is yet to come out. Maybe he's afraid that noone will take him seriously? I think he is underestimated and if Will Smith could do it then so can Eddie Murphy.
