Hi Wayne,

I have lurking on your website, as well as the forums, for quite some time now and believe I may finally be ready to take the plunge build a set of your speakers. I am, however, at a bit of a crossroads due to budget considerations (I'm a student). I would love to build a set of four pi speakers, but am also considering the two pi tower as a more gradual (and perhaps economical) introduction. If you have an opinion on the subject I would appreciate hearing it. If possible, I would also like to have a look at the plans for each to ponder my next move a bit more. Thanks in advance.
