

---

Subject: Re: Acoustics and Aesthetics

Posted by Wayne Parham on Sat, 02 Oct 2010 06:21:15 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Speakers with controlled directivity can really help sound quality from 200Hz up, even in troublesome rooms. And multiple subs help smooth room modes, improving sound quality at lower frequencies. So some of the problems room acoustics give us can be at least partially mitigated with the right speakers and setup.

---