Subject: Sound's highest achievement Posted by Bohnam on Thu, 14 Oct 2010 11:26:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Would you agree with the theory that music is sound's highest achievement? It is, after all, a wonderfully varied mixture of patterned vibrations sent into the air by all kinds of instruments, from a cricket's hind legs to a massive pipe organ.

But do you think that music is the best that sound can do?