Well, I read all the info on the angles of listening and I need Wayne to sum it up for me. If I only have enough room to sit the 4pi's on my shelf behind my screen facing forward and not taking advantage of the toe in angle, what are your opinions on this. All three will be facing forward about 10 feet from the LP. The L&R will be about 11.5 feet each, due to them being on either side of the center.

Can the speaker be used upside-down to get the horn more online with the listener at ear level.

I can't seem to get a good answer, but get enough to be concerned, considering what I've read.....thanx ahead of time.
