I listen to various Pandora streams from time to time. I like how they have "stations" of your favorite groups, and that they interject other music that is "like" your group from time to time. But I haven't tried setting up my own stream or "station" there. Might need to look into that sometime.

We do have ART Radio though. Check it out - click on the link in the top right corner, near the search button.

Who's listening to ART Radio?
