Many people just can't help but cringe when they see Muslims, and it's because of the fear that came out of what happened on 9/11. Now Muslims are being sterotyped the same way that others have been wrongly stereotyped through the ages. Unfortunately, it takes re-educating as these fears stem from ignorance. Ignorance, of course, meaning "not knowing". Many Americans question what Muslims are taught and what the general feeling towards America is. This was no small incident, so the "teaching" will not be easy, either.
