Okay, as usual I am slower than I anticipate. I have tried to convert my PDF manual to a word document so that I can view the HTML and copy/paste that into the forum. Not working well at all. I had it finally done and as soon as I saved it the formatting went to hell. So I am going to attach the manual. I wish I could just paste the whole thing in so that it can be the first few posts of this thread but its just not working out that way.
Here is the manual folks:
