Depends, what style do you want? Open, closed, in-ear? Price?

The usual suspects for headphones are Grado, Sennheiser, BeyerDynamic, Shure, Ultrasone, Etymotic, JH Audio.

If you are using your PC as a source and are dedicated to headphones, I would invest in a good DAC and dedicated headphone amp. The differences are like night and day.

If you ever have a chance to go to a CanJam meet I suggest you do. There you can listen to many different setups. Just google it for info.
