I spilled a beer in an Integrated Amp one time and fried it.

You know what I did? Went out and bought a $10 pair of RS speakers, ripped the pre-amp out of them and hooked up my tower speakers.

I had 240watt speakers getting incredibly loud off of an amp slightly bigger than a box of matches.

Those little tiny pre-amps leave a lot to be desired, but they get the job done when decent speakers are attached.
