The vocalists on the From The Landing show from NPRare also excellent though I don't own much of the work. Rebecca Kilgore is their featured vocalist who always seems fresh and able to keep time-- you know, not behind the beat or in front of it. Streams of the show are available from the Riverwalk site. I tend to be a minimalist as far as hardware is concerned. Over on the DIY forum one of the regulars was saying that his kids wanted to build a BIB (Bigger Is Better design from Terry Cain). The kids are 8 and 5. The one won a cheap cd player and they want to fire it up with a Sonic Impact amp and run it to some BIBs. They want to paint flames on the BIB's.
