I don't have satellite radio and don't think it's something I will get because it's just extra money that I don't think I should be spending. Sometimes though, I wish I had satellite radio because I really miss listening to Howard Stern! I haven't heard him in years and I can't seem to find any recordings of his shows online or anything. Is he still the same as a few years ago? Still dirty as always? I'm guessing the answers are yes. I'm so happy for him being able to do his own thing!
