Since your nephew is just starting out with band, there is a 50 50 chance he will either really enjoy it, and it will open up a whole new world for him, or he will put it away when the reality of practice enters the picture. When I was in band, this was the most popular instrument especially among the boys. If you were to buy it from Craig's List, then you would have the option to either sell it or donate to someone that would love the instrument, but couldn't afford it. Either way, you would make someone happy.
