
Subject: Re: Male vocalists-- New Thread
Posted by lon on Fri, 24 Mar 2006 18:43:47 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

And Madness.Plus I had a really good live band expereince at a punk skaevent featuring a band called "Less Than Jake" and some others.These days I go out very little. There quite frankly is nothingto go out for.But my first ska experience was from a radio show thatwas on at Sunday at 12 noon and it sounded great. Good for cleaning house. _That_ program introduced me to the retro swing movement of the late 90's. I would have beenunaware of the new swing at all otherwise.Ska for me is the 'missing link' in the pop music chain. It shouldhave a place in club performance everywhere. But it's only inbig cities where it has had any presence at all.I am old. I am an old fart. There is no place for me in clubs even if I drank or smoked. It's just alien. But still,I would go out to see a ska band in performance again.
