I don't know the Omega woofer, only the Delta from the old Theatre 4, but going to the JBL 2226 has to make the bigger change as it's in the music-range, 150 to 1600 Hz. Also, the 2226 has a mid-range that just kills all those darling little 86dB, 6" drivers in the $10,000 speakers I've heard.

The PSD-2002, while not in the class of the B&C DE-250, is very easy on the ears, doing a great job of conveying the timbre of the music.
