I'm using Samsung SHS-100V headphones. I prefer headphones with high quality filter such as this brand. I have a sharp hearing and I get distracted even by the slightest sound, so when I'm with my music, I don't want to entertain any sound waves from other sources except those coming from my music. The size of the headphones is not one of their appealing features, but the padded ear pieces and the extendable headband do provide the comfort.
