It's not for those who expect a concert video. It's a pretty decent mixture of visual to go with the songs selected. There are interviews with the band but it's all dated stuff and inteviews with young rock musicians trying to sound wordly doen't do much for me.The songs are good and the video that accompanies them is great. I like it because I never got to see Floyd when they toured the US. Sound quality of the DVD is pretty good. It's all pre-DSOTM music but they do show the band working on several tracks from DSOTM. I like it but hey I'm easily amused Besides, it's Floyd doing their thing and entertaining.
