Its music earned the film a Grammy, an Oscar, and a Golden Globe....Its get me teary-eyed when I watch the video of one of its songs, "Married Life". It shows how music does help in effectively telling a story.

I will have to watch "Up" again because the first time I was really glued to understanding the story line and though I heard the music, didn't pay a lot of attention. Sometimes it takes one or two viewings of a movie to capture it all.
