Subject: Re: Kinda tuff 'cause I only buy at shows
Posted by Manualblock on Thu, 13 Apr 2006 12:12:18 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I stopped by two local shows recently but I don't see much worth getting anymore. Unless you are willing to drop twenty bucks on an LP that you are not sure was properly cared for that leaves the 2 and 5 dollar racks. I see a lot of stuff I would have grabbed ten years ago but now I have most of what I might want. I find buying the occasional new re-issue my usual purchase now. There are several good used stores around here and sometimes they let slip something good for a fair price; but with e-bay and the net most of whats worth owning in vinyl is well documented and priced accordingly.Lots of what interests me now is almost unavailable. Most of the older pshycadelic music is now popular so ..Bam! Huge price increase.But those are good examples;Jimmy Rushing..Mr 5by5!The Classic; did you try Disc Doctor?