
Subject: Re: 3-Way Speakers for My Car
Posted by FE3T on Wed, 20 Apr 2011 19:51:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

3 way components are nice, mainly because they offer more freedom in placement.

If you mean something like this:

Beware. On the cheapest speakers of this configuration you might not even get a 3 way speaker. I have actually seen such speakers where the super tweeter are just a dummy, basically just a shiny dome, without magnet, coil, or even a piezo disk to make it do anything.

Actually, my favorites amongst the coaxial's are these:

Made by Morel for a brand called Macrom, even Xtant sold these under their brand. Morel still makes similar models they are a bit costly, but in my opinion they are worth it.
