Hi Fred, Scott? More likely myself or Rodney. There were a lot of folk there and I'm sure I got many faces and names switched. Regardless, Thanks for the kind words. The Poddwatt was a project I almost didn't design. When I did the first one (still in operation for nearly two years at 8 hours a day in my office) I really liked it and I'm particularly glad to be able to make it available for others either as a kit, finished amp and for many a diy project. The LSAF was a great event.
