
Subject: Re: Repairing Veneer Damage: On-The-Job-Training
Posted by Wayne Parham on Thu, 26 May 2011 16:31:46 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I've had guys here in Tulsa repair damaged veneer with paint like that, duplicating the fibers to some degree. But I don't think they were as attentive as you were. Seeing what you've done there really impresses me. It looks to me like with the right attention to detail, you can make a repair that's truly undetectable. Good job, Bill!
