Hi Bruce!
Thank you for kind words!
You are right - I am proud of my first DIY.
However, I'm aware that is peace of cake for experienced and knowledgeable builder, but for me it is top of the world.
Of course I will seek for your links! Love to read and watch pics about audio diy electronic. Not long time ago I did not know how capacitor look like - internet is great place for critical reader!
Also thank you for complimenting my english. Never had english in school but I learned it unintentionally...by listening seventie's rock music since I was ten. That's why I dont know spelling or gramatic rules.
