Yeah, I think it's a punk thing to do. If you have a loud stereo, turn it down at stop lights and in neighborhoods. If you have a hot car or motorcycle with loud exhaust, don't rev it under bridges, roll on slow. When I see someone gun it under a bridge, I think to myself, what a punk. Same with the buning buzz subs at a stoplight. That's the definition of uncool in my book.
