Steve,

Well if you did not move so far away from me it would be easier to help you out!

My 12' x 16' livingroom works out pretty good, but the big thing is to get a good synergy between your spkrs and amp!

I doubt that there is too much damping in your room, just need to maybe swap the amps or spkrs to see which give the best results in your new audio room.

Send me a round-trip plane ticket and I'll fix your problem!!! LOL
