I don't disagree, Bill. One of my favorite amps I've built ended up with Ron. It was very much like the simple SE. They were mono blocks, used a 417a driver and any variety of "standard" output tubes like EL34's, 6550's etc. Had James OPTs and one of them really spendy V Caps as the coupling cap. I think those caps cost more than the OPTs! Anyway,very nice sounding amps.
