Subject: Re: Trapezoid enclosures
Posted by Wayne Parham on Mon, 19 Sep 2011 20:02:37 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There have been soooo many builders here over the years, several of them doing their own mods and twists. The most common are just slight dimension changes, but some are towers. Some have made slanted front baffles and some have made angled sides, forming the trapezoid shape you're talking about. But I don't recall seeing any acoustic measurements of any cabinets like that.