
Subject: Re: Speaker placement and wavefront launch
Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 05 Oct 2011 23:20:24 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Well, that's right, Bruce. Dipoles are a different animal, and have a very different radiating pattern. I really don't think you can operate a dipole speaker close to a boundary with good results. They really need to be used in large rooms, set far away from walls so the anti-phase wave projected behind them doesn't reflect back and interfere with the forward wave.
