Subject: Re: Wine Glass Used as Musical Instrument
Posted by AdrianG on Sat, 22 Oct 2011 01:44:07 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Yaser wrote on Tue, 09 August 2011 22:32I have attended a party last weekend and there was this guy who was playing with wine glass. There are different sizes of the glasses and they contain a bit of water. I'm amazed about the precision that he did with how much water the glasses should have to create a specific note. Have you seen someone played like this?
When I was in band in high school, we performed a piece once where we used crystal glasses. We had to fill them at different levels before we went on stage, it was a bit tricky. The sound was definitely interesting and pretty cool, although I'm not sure how good it sounded in the audience.