Subject: Re: Lost in Translation
Posted by Manualblock on Mon, 24 Jul 2006 22:16:30 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I liked Lost In Translation, Bill Murray is an underrated actor and Scarllett Johansen underplayed her role for a change so it came across as real. Interesting premise and well directed. The little things you never think about when traveling; the scene when she exits the train station and those giant Elephants are playing across the screen was a howl.