My tube has been full of dvd tv series that I get for free at the local library or for a buck or less at the store.You prob'ly don't want to hear about Underworld Evolution.Things like Lost In Translation are a matter of taste and I'vemade my opinion on that here (and everywhere else) already.I can't keep my hands off dvds of "Oz." That's the HBO series available on dvd. Ten stars at IMDb in case you've never seen it. Other box just released is HBO "Carnivale" seriousadult stuff in both seasons. Also the 4400 second season boxis available. I like these because they are longer than amovie, but in smaller chunks and there's no commercials.The science fiction world awaits more Battlestar Gallactica,the new version. Oh, BTW I have a bit of blog-- pretty pathetic one -- but I puta couple remarks in there about An Inconvenient Truth and,more to the point, a new series from the Sci Fi channel called"Eureka."
