Hi, If the speakers are like many others by Altec they have built in amplifiers. If they are powered by a wall wart then you can use them easily. Just feed in the ipod audio and plug in the wall wart. If they are USB powered you can still do it, but will need a device that plugs into the wall and can "charge" USB devices. They are quite common and even Wally World has some. Should cost under $20. Plug in the charger and hook up the audio and you should be good to go.
