I bought my clamps from Harbor Freight. The 36" bar clamps (blue) worked well, they are not as good as Bessey clamps but the cost differential is about 3:1. The smaller clamps also worked well (Harbor Freight). The hand-ratchet clamps they sell are complete crap, for that style I will stick with Irwin.

If I had an active woodshop I would probably buy Bessey clamps - the one that I have is clearly better made than the the harbor Freight clamps. But for building a few speakers from time-to-time the Harbor Freight clamps work fine, for the price they are hard to beat.
