Subject: The right crowds for the music Posted by Danny on Sat, 03 Dec 2011 12:43:02 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

One of my favorite local bands broke up recently, and I was really devastated! They were a young group and played in a lot of clubs where young people go. The problem was that their music didn't fit with today's crowd. They sounded more like early Rolling Stones. I suppose if they had played to an older crowd, they would have been more successful. Sometimes you have to research the clubs and the type of crowds that frequent them.

Page 1 of 1 ---- Generated from AudioRoundTable.com