I share your experience, Bruce. Took piano lessons for years as a kid, and got to where I could play lots of classical pieces. But I put it down once I grew up and really never picked it back up again. I will say this, though, it greatly influenced my taste in music and probably had a big influence on my interest in high quality sound systems. I probably wouldn't be so involved in building sound gear as I am if it weren't for that experience in my youth. So I guess it was sort of a really involved music appreciation course.
