When you do use grills like that in club installs, do you only cover the woofer, or are you also covering the tweeter? If you are also covering the tweeter, what are you going so with? Thanks again for the feedback. I get some of the best customer service here

FYI: This is what my 1pis look like with just gravity holding the drivers in place. 12 does not seem like a big number until you have gone through a crap load of sandpaper making them nice and plumb.
