

---

Subject: Re: suitcase record player
Posted by timron on Thu, 19 Apr 2012 03:43:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Re: suitcase record player Wed, 18 April 2012 14:20
iLoveiPod

I ran a search on Ebay for a "suitcase record player" and it pulled up 25 matches. The least expensive one was a Vornado, with bidding starting at $9.99. There were two tied for most expensive, one was a Zenith and the other was a Pyle, both at $199. There was even one that was brand new - a Crosley model for $133. So, if you're still in the market for one, it looks like there are plenty out there!

I had no idea that it would be so easy to find one of these old suitcase-style record players! I would have thought that they were collectibles now and as such, would be much harder to find! I'm also surprised by how relatively inexpensive they are, being vintage audio equipment. I'm going to look into this; maybe I'll buy one!

---